

“LITTLE THINGS”

How little words can stir the heart;
While others pierce as with a dart!

Little acts can make man ponder
And to change a life of plunder.

And little thoughts great plans can start,
Such plans that can great help impart.

Even “simple” things God can use
And a wiser man they’ll confuse.

A child’s been known to lead a man.
Be like a child; a wise man can.

“Little sins” great lives can destroy
They can rob you of all your joy.

Little objects great lessons teach
That we may thusly others reach.

Don’t despise these “little things”;
Each it’s blessing or cursing brings.

ANOTHER’S WRONG

Does what someone else did bother you?
Then put yourself in the other’s shoe.
Does it seem to you God doesn’t know
How that person sinned and hurt you so?

Does another’s sin pierce you within?
It seems that this wrong would do you in?
It would forever dwell in your thought,
It just will not leave you as it ought.

Then let God’s forgiveness fill your soul
And make His presence within you whole.
Then you can forgive that other one
And have fellowship sweet in God’s Son.

Someday in the future it might be
That others a sin of yours would see.
Could they forgive you as you did them?
Would they in Christian love look to Him?

So if what the other does bothers you
Just put yourself in the other’s shoe.
If God can forgive that which you do,
Then He can forgive the other, too.
